Place and Black Opposed to Renomination of Higgins -Platt Pavers 99, f.inn Bruce for erner's Priends Sas He Will Bun if ite Wants To and Will Bown Mitell.

fore Republican politics in the State of New York is huggy. According to the best of some Hepublicans in New York city easterday, Mr. Platt, Mr. Orfell and Mr. tiack are opposed to a renomination for Frank Wayland Higgins. Yet if things look equally for the Republican to assemble, they may not think it advisable to oppose Gov Higgins should the Governor lesire a renomination. Gov. Higgine's friends in town yesterday said explicitly that if the Governor desires a renomination ell have one; that he will win at the poils and that if he doesn't do anything an before leaving the Governor's chair he will see to it that Mr. Odell is retired from any place of distinction and honor in The Governor's friends further declared that the opposition of Mr. Platt, cited and Mr. Black to him came primarily because the Governor had been his own Governor, and that while he had fatored personal friends like Francis Hendricks, George W. Aldridge, Frederick D. Kilburn and others, he had a perfect right to do so having within the last two years had to depend upon the friendship of these Republicans and their associates, while at all times he knew that Mr. Platt, Mr. Odell and Mr. Black were opposed to It was natural, therefore, his friends said that he should have declined to do favors for Mr. Platt and Mr. Black.

No man alive knows," said one of the Governor's closest friends, "if he desires renomination. He hasn't said a word made an intimation on the subject. He is looking over the situation himself. believes he has made a good Governor for the people and he understands perfectly that he has offended Mr. Platt, Mr. Odell and Mr. Black, but he believes that if he decides to run again he can easily defeat Mr. Platt, Mr. Odell and Mr. Black in the convention. He doesn't believe that he will share the fate of Mr. Black in 1898. for the reason that he has not attempted to serve any master in the Republican

Gov. Higgins has now, it was said, a strong ally in William Barnes, Jr., of Albany, chairman of the executive committee of the Republican State committee. While Mr. Barnes is friendly to Mr. Platt and Mr. Black, he is just as unfriendly to Mr. Odell, and there were Republicans in town last night who predicted that Gov. Higgins would see to it that Mr. Barnes is made chairman of the State committee and that Mr. Barnes in his turn. would see to it that Mr. Platt and Mr. Black and others, always excepting Mr. Odell, would withdraw their opposition to Gov. Higgins's renomination provided that the Governor wants one.

Gov. Higgins has told some of his friends that he did not believe that his health would permit him to run again. But he does not purpose, it was added, to be put upon the shelf by Mr. Platt, Mr. Odell and Mr. Black without a say of his own.

Gov. Higgins, it was learned, had suggested that no delegates to the Republican State convention, which doubtless will be held in Saratoga in September, be instructed for him. This was interpreted to mean that the Governor, should be desire a renomination, would like to have it come to him as a sort of free-will gift, and if he does not care to become a candidate would have the delegates free to go to Lieut.-Gov. Bruce or some other Republican. It was Charles E. Hughes, that Mr. Black doesn't care very much who is nominated, but that Mr. Barnes and Mr. Barnes's friends believed that Gov. Higgins should be renominated right off the bat.

Lett : Carriers Help to Make "The Postmaster's Daughter" a Success.

The Postmaster's Daughter," the newest down in Maine comedy drama, had its ofening at the Grand Opera House last night. It went off with a rush, partly because it deserved it and partly because it was boomed by the New York letter carriers, who are financially interested in its success. The comedy part was largely furnished by Felix Haney, late of the Hippodrome, who had a Hi Heller part. Laura Jacoby Deane, a vaudeville actress, seemed to satisfy everybody as the star. The author, Neil Twomey, who wasn't a stranger to Eighth avenue, also seemed to have a houseful of friends. One individual success of the show was lugged off by "Tweedie" Duncan, ex-office boy of the Grand, whose friends almost raised the roof when he

The plot wasn't any more serious than the marriage of a Maine crossroads postmaster's daughter to a young blood from New York who surprised everybody by being decent to her. She went home to her father after the third act because her rich uncle insinuated that she didn't have table manners. Her husband went and got her in the fourth, and everything turned but well. Strangely enough, there wasn't real villain in the show.

The New York Letter Carriers' band blayed in the lobby before and after the thow, and many of the local post officials, from Assistant Postmaster Morgan, Secretary Murphy and Superintendent of Mails Roome down, were in the boxes. The plot wasn't any more serious than

DOCTOR EXPLAINS His Article in the Medical Magazine About

One of the most famous medical publications in the United States is the "Alkaloidal Clinic," in a recent number of which an entertaining article on coffee by a progressive physician and surgeon was published. In explaining his position in the matter this physician recently said: "In the article in question I really touched but lightly upon the merits of Postum Food Coffee. I have had several cases of heart trouble, indigestion and nervousness where a permanent cure was effected by merely using Postum in place of coffee without any, other treatment. "In my own family I have used Postum for three years, and my children actually cry for it and will not be satisfied with any other beverage. Indeed, they refuse to eat until they have had the customary cup of Postum, and as it is a rebuilder and does nothing but good I am only too glad to let them have it. "To get the best results we boil the Postum at least 20 minutes, and it is then settled by adding a little cold water, then the addition of fresh cream makes a beverage I now prefer to the very best coffee." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Authorities are agreed that Postum is a wonderfully quick and sure rebuilder. Ten days' trial in place of coffee proves it. Look in pkgs. for the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville."

7 EAST 44TH STREET CASTAWAYS IN JAMAICA BAY,

GOOD SHIP HORO RAN APOUL OF HAR AFTER HAR.

Twas Lucky, Too, for the Sunday Squatt Came t p When She Was High and Dry and No time Was in Danger - til Night Stay for Those on Board-411 Saved.

The open catboat Hobo, built, owned and navigated by Robert E. Morrison, a young surveyor of 184 Van Buren street. Brooklyn, discovered a sandbar in Jamaica Bay at low tide on Sunday afternoon. There is no reason why Morrison should not have made this discovery, as there are probably about 500 of them, and their chief occupation is grabbing the keels of small sailing craft and holding on until high water. Mr. Morrison is an able seaman, but he has not learned the situation of all the bars yet. He hopes to, if he lives long enough and new ones do not form so fast that they cannot be charted. The particular bar which Mr. Morrison ran afoul of on Sunday is about a mile off Rockaway. He thinks he will be able to recognize it again, as he was on it until 8 o'clock on Sunday night with his sister Ethel, and their friends and neighbors Louis W. Jennings and MissEthel Hallan. The party had started from Bergen Beach to sail across the bay and back again. They were off Rockaway about 2:30 P. M. when they found the bar.

The tide was falling and soon the Hobo was high and dry. This did not disturb the navigator or the young women; in fact they looked on it as a blessing in disguise when the heavy squall roared across the bay, combing up the white caps and making a sea that the Hobo might have had trouble in if she had been affoat. After the squall came the rain. Mr. Morrison had lowered and unbent his sail and made a shelter with it for all hands. About 8 o'clock, when the tide was nearing flood, the Hobo slid into

A moment later she discovered another bar, which gripped her ungallantly. She drifted off and within a few minutes found that there was still one bar left. On this bar the skipper decided to let his ship rest until daylight, as he did not care about risking finding a tortuous channel and more bars in the darkness. The young women lay on the thwarts, covered by the sail, and got snatches of sleep during the chilly night, and the young men sat up and tried to look unconcerned, so as to encourage the young women not to feel otherwise. The party had had nothing to eat since noon and they were pretty hungry when the sun came up yesterday morning and found them still fast on the

At 6 o'clock all hands got to work, and the little ship was soon affoat and dancing toward Bergen Beach, with a fair wind bellying her sail. Naturally Mrs. Morrison, Mrs. Jennings and Mrs. Hallan were very much disturbed when the young folks did not show up on Sunday night. When definitely learned last night that Mr. Platt they read yesterday morning about the favors Mr. Bruce, that Mr. Odell has re- mishaps in the squall on the water they Inquished all thought of nominating grew nervous and the police were asked 1 o'clock yesterday morning the anxious families were relieved by the appearance of all hands for luncheon. They ate with the appetite of castaways and slept pretty much all day to pay up for slumber time lost on the bar.

> PARK PHILOSOPHY FROM METZ. Notorious Smallness of Families of the Poor His Text.

The committee of the Board of Estimate appointed to recommend a site for a seaside park and convalescent home for the city's poor held a public hearing yesterday.

The places mostly favored by the officials of the charitable organizations and of the hospitals are Rockaway Point and Long Beach. President Peters of the Long Island Railroad told the committee yesterday that with developing traffic his company would be able to carry passengers to Long Beach for 50 cents the round trip and to Rockaway for 40 cents. Mr. Peters said his company would, if necessary, four track the trestle road over Jamaica Bay.

During the hearing Comptroller Metz remarked: "I'm not so stuck on a park for the charity workers. My idea is that the city should lay out a park somewhere, which could be used by the poor man and his family to go and get some fresh air and a glass of cold beer, just as the rich man can get it at Claremont. More than that, I don't see much use in providing a park for the poor man and his children, as has been so much urged here to-day, when the average poor man cannot earn enough money to have children."

Among the new sites suggested at yesterday's hearing were Sea Breeze, Coney Island and Great Kills, Staten Island. Further hearings will be held by the committee. Rockaway for 40 cents. Mr. Peters said

Charles Wilson, for many years here with Col. Mapleson and more recently at the Alhambra in London, will be the first stage manager and is to be assisted by Josef Engle, formerly of Kroll's Garden in Berlin.

Mme. Freisinger is to have charge of the costume department, and the new scenery is to be painted by artists from London and Paris. There will be a chorus of 100 and an orchestra of seventy-five, which is and an orchestra of seventy-five, which is to be increased when the operas require it.

Mr. Hammerstein announces that his répertoire will include only one Wagner opera. This is "Lohengrin," which is to be sung in French. Among the revivals will he Auber's "Fra Diavolo," Bellini's "I Puritani," Halévy's "La Juive," Meyerbeer's "Dinorah" and Verdi's "Ernani." The three novelties to be sung are Berlioz's "La Dampation de Faust," Catalani's new opera, "The Loreley," and Glück's "Armida."

BURDEN-ROCHE.

Grace Church Elaborately Decorated for the Wedding Geremony.

Miss Cynthia Roche and Arthur Scott Burden were married yesterday in Grace Church. The church was elaborately decorated. In the vestibule were numerous palms and on every other pew in the middle aisle there were big bunches of Easter lilies, orange blossoms and peonies tied with white ribbon. In the chancel on either side were masses of the same flowers.

The bridesmaids, Misses Evelyn Parsons,
Natica Rives, Sidie Jones, Therese Iselin,
Maria Moran and Nora Iselin, wore white chifton gowns.

The bride, who walked up the aisle with Maurice Roche, one of her twin brothers, wore a white radium satin costume with a iong trained perfectly plain skirt and wide girdle. The waist was entirely of point lace. The wide point lace veil completely covered the skirt to the edge of the train.
